The Bulletin.

Norwich, Wednesday, Aug. 11, 1909.

VARIOUS MATTERS

Rain, and even cooler weather are promised.
Wilted humanity revived in Tuesday's clear air.
There are as many elm leaves on some of the lawns as there might be in October.
The canna in the small enclosure at the Central Baptist church are beginning to bloom.
The annual reunion of the Cady family is to be held at Crystal Lake, near Rockville, Thursday.
The number of boy bathers at the long dock decreased on Tuesday, although many took the plunge.
During the past year the state has expended $23,000 in securing and propagating Hungarian partridges.
A tall row of goldenglow in full bloom forms a bright border in the grounds of the Central fire station.
There was a let-up in the demand for summer drinks on Tuesday, after the rush days at the soda fountains.
In the twenty-four hours from Monday at 9 p. m. to Tuesday at the same hour, there was a drop of about 28 degrees.
Members of Seabury Memorial chapel, Groton, will hold a picnic Thursday at the grove of Charles H. Brown at Gales Ferry.
George Hempstead of Groton, acting in the capacity of district deputy, C. H., went to Norwich Monday night to inspect the local convales.

The pulpit at the Congregational church in Old Lyme was occupied on Sunday by the Rev. Dr. L. L. West of the Second Congregational church, Norwich.
The navy tug Standish has been at the Navy yard getting coal on the way from Newport to Annapolis. Five midshipmen from Annapolis are making the trip on her.
The annual reunion of the Sixteenth C. V. will be held at Bristol on September 17, the anniversary of the battle of Antietam. The reunion will be a Lake Campouche.
The Children's club of Quaker Hill held its first annual outing Monday at Ocean beach. The party consisted of about 15 members. Mrs. N. A. Richards and Miss Marie Brown were the chaperones.
As was to be expected, the small boys who visit the new D. A. R. memorial fountain on the Little Plain, are not satisfied with quenching their thirst, but linger to play about, wearing down the grass, and committing acts of vandalism.
Mayors of Connecticut cities are being asked to name delegates to the second annual convention of the National Good Roads association at Cleveland, O., in September. It is expected that highway officials from more than thirty states will be present at the convention.
There is local interest in the news note that Justice Thomas H. Anderson of the District of Columbia supreme court, and Mrs. Anderson, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Perle Augustus Anderson of Washington, to Frederick P. Lilley, son of the late governor of Connecticut.
A Waterbury exchange states that Mrs. John B. Jones at Plainville, conference Saturday, and arranged for carrying on the Junior league work in this state during the coming year. Mrs. Jones is superintendent of the department and hopes to have Junior leagues in every Methodist church in the district.
Justice L. S. Carpenter fined Horace Johnson, the Middle Haddam weather prophet, $7 and costs on two counts, committing a nuisance and dumping refuse on a highway Saturday. The complaint being that Mr. Johnson had dumped stones in the roadway. The case was appealed. Miss Ida Johnson, Mr. Johnson's daughter, qualifying for the bond required of $300.
Prizes for Beekeepers.
The annual fall exhibit of the Connecticut Beekeepers' association, of which Allen Latham of this city is president, will be held at Charter Oak park in connection with the fair, September 6 to 11. Each prize offered by the association is to be doubled by the exhibitor. The prize list is an amount far above any heretofore offered in the state.
The prizes given are for exhibits of bees, queens, comb honey, extracted honey and apiarian display.
All meritorious exhibits pertaining to bee culture not above provided for will receive special premiums.
Beekeepers may compete for these premiums by joining the Connecticut Beekeepers' association. Interest is growing in bee culture. The general assembly recently passed a law providing that the state entomologist shall inspect apiaries when the disease, foul brood, is reported. The act calls for a $500 appropriation.
Wire Down at DeWolfe's.
A trolley wire down at DeWolfe's turnout near Trading Cove early on Tuesday morning made trouble for the trolley cars between the New London and Norwich city limits. The break occurred at the power transmission station in both cities with the result that early morning cars were late.
Cars from Ocean beach were delayed for 15 and 20 minutes and it was not until 9 o'clock that the street railway company got its cars operating on time. A cab from Norwich was half an hour late in arriving here at 9:15, but later the Montville line cars were running on time.
Roll Off at Rose Alleys.
Unusually low scores were made in the roll off of last week's tournament resulting as follows: Scott and Murphy 560, Scott and McCafferty 597, McCafferty and Murphy 591, Scott and Sturtevant 595, Hill and Murphy 636, Hill and Murphy and Scott and McCafferty take the prizes of $3 and $2.
Button Family Reunion.
A reunion of the Button families and their descendants will be held Thursday, Aug. 19th, at Lincoln park, and all relatives have been invited to attend. The reunion is to be on the picnic plan and the gathering of Buttons is expected to be large.
Corn is our greatest crop, that of 1909 being valued at $1,615,000,000.

Challengers For Van Winkle Medal

Two Eager to Play Bosworth at Coming Tourney—Secretary Bishop Hears of Many Coming Here Next Week.

Secretary N. L. Bishop of the National Bow Association continues to receive letters from the enthusiastic devotees of the game, which indicate that the annual tournament opening on the Rockwell grounds next week, will have the standard of previous years maintained in number attending and interest in the sport. Among the latest to be heard from is John M. Taylor of Summit, N. J., who was here two years ago and retains the liveliest interest in the game while not being much of a player on the sandlot courts. Mr. Taylor will not be able to attend, but he shows that his heart is in the right place by sending his check for $5. President McDonald of Chicago has written again of the field that the game has there, and is quite confident that there will be several representatives from the Windy city.

C. C. King of Chicago, a first division player, who was here last year, has written that he wants to challenge Harold Bosworth of New London for the Van Winkle medal, but Secretary Bishop has heard that there is already a challenge in the field on the Rockwell grounds for the medal from National Champion Eddie Clark of Springfield. Clark and Bosworth finished first and second respectively in the first division last year and were rivals for the premier honors all through the tourney. Two challenges in the field presents the possibility for two playoffs for the medal, as Bosworth might meet Clark first, and the winner play King.

A letter has been received from Prof. Charles Jacobus of Springfield, written in his characteristic style, and declaring his intention of coming. To the regular attendants at the tournaments, Professor Jacobus is necessary figure to make them right, and he can be counted upon without fail each year.

CLERGYMAN'S BODY RECOVERED IN FISHERS ISLAND SOUND

Captain Sietars of Noank Found Body of Rev. H. L. Mitchell.

The body of Rev. Herbert Lincoln Mitchell, whose life was lost on August 1st in an heroic attempt to save Clarence Bielowsky from drowning, was found floating in the waters of Fishers Island sound Tuesday morning. The body was found by a boatman the point where the body was found is less than half a mile from where the Episcopal minister and his boy organist were drowned. The body was found floating by men on the fishing schooner Aunt Edie of Noank, Capt. James Sietars. It was towed into the wharf at Fort H. G. Wright, and Rev. A. C. McDougall, who knew Mr. Mitchell well, was asked to come to Fishers island and identify it for official satisfaction. Mr. Jones was unable to go, but he sent C. C. McDougall over to the island and the identification was made.
